Four boys vandalize warehouse

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Police Dept. has arrested and charged four juveniles with breaking and entering, burglary and vandalism of a warehouse and the 60 boats stored inside of it.

The warehouse is located on Depot St., near Anita St. and is being leased by Sequoit Harbor for boat storage.

According to Lt. Tom Fisher, he was contacted by the father of one of the youths who reported that he had found stereo equipment in his son's possession that didn't belong to him.

The three boys, two 15-year-olds, one 14-year-old and one 12-year-old, allegedly entered the warehouse three times on Saturday, Nov. 13 and Sunday, Nov. 14.

The first two break-ins occurred during the afternoon and evening of Saturday, and the third at approximately 1 p.m., Sunday.

The police found that most of the boats that were in storage had been entered, ransacked and some of them vandalized. Stereos and speakers had been stolen from the boats.

Fisher said that the exact extent of the burglaries was not yet estimated since all the boat owners had not been contacted.

Fire extinguishers had been removed from the boats and sprayed all over the warehouse and lubricant had also been sprayed on the boats and in the building.

Fisher reported that his department had recovered most of the stolen merchandise and had filed a petition on the case with the juvenile courts in Waukegan.

Will IPCB dash trash expansion?

Although the Illinois Pollution Control Board's (IPCB) deadline for its decision on the appeal of Lake County's denial of Waste Management's landfill expansion application, isn't until Jan. 1, 1983, Antioch's residents and the disposal company will be paying great attention to the hearing slated for Tuesday, Nov. 23.

A professor from Loyola University, Alan B. Shoenberger, will chair the IPCB hearing that is set for 9:30 a.m., on the 10th floor of the Lake County Building in Waukegan.

All the public input allowed on the matter has been given and it now remains for Shoenberger to consider the myriad of testimony and facts on both sides and then decide if the previous hearings were properly and fairly conducted.

With almost 2,500 pages on file concerning the case, Village Atty. Ken Clark calls the village record, "the most complete one to be filed," since the inception of the law.

After Shoenberger's decision is made, the losing party may still appeal that decision to the appellate court.

MARY CARNEY'S QUEST FOR LIFE

The will to live is a precious commodity that can be lost in a moment. For Mary Carney, the will to live was a constant battle. She was a 31-year-old Antioch wife and mother, Mary Carney.

Antioch News Nov. 22, 1972

Second crash takes Mary Carney's life

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Nov. 22, 1972 issue of the Antioch News carried a story saluting the will to live of a 31-year-old Antioch wife and mother, Mary Carney.

Carney had been seriously injured in an automobile accident on July 3 of that year. The accident that occurred in Janesville, Wis., took the lives of two other Antioch residents, Judith Frasch and Shirley Kasik.

The article credited Carney's strong will to live and the excellent medical care she received at the University Hospital, Madison, for her recovery.

This week, the Nov. 22, 1982 issue of the Antioch News carries Carney's obituary.

According to Lake County Deputy Coroner Barbara Richardson, Carney died of head injuries when the car she was driving was struck head-on by a car driven by Scott E. Barnes, 29, Oak Lawn.

The collision occurred at 6:28 a.m., on Thursday, Nov. 18, on Rte. 83, near Town Line Rd.. Carney was pronounced dead at the scene by Chief Deputy Coroner Ed Van Dien.

Barnes, who was also injured, was taken to St. Therese Trauma Satellite by the Antioch Rescue Squad.

Reports said that Carney was heading south on Rte. 83, on her way to work as a nurse at St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan, at the time of the accident.

A witness at the scene who was driving about 60 feet behind Carney, Steven Florek, 35, Bristol, reported that northbound Barnes' car headed across the center line towards Carney's car. Carney's car swerved to avoid the collision but was struck head-on.

According to the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., Barnes told deputies at the scene that he had left work in Waukegan at 12:20 a.m., gone for a few drinks with friends and the next thing he remembered was seeing a car heading towards him.

Barnes agreed to a blood sample test although his injuries made him incapable of signing the release form. The results of the test were unavailable at press time.

Carney's husband Bill is the assistant fire chief of the Antioch Fire Dept.. She leaves behind three children, Cindy, 20, a student at Texas A&M College, William, 18, and Robert, 13, both at home.

William is on the Antioch High School varsity football team that played in the state semi-finals on Saturday, Nov. 20.

A memorial funeral service was held at 10 a.m., on Monday, Nov. 22, at St. Peters Church in Antioch. There was no visitation as her body was donated to medical science.

In lieu of flowers a memorial fund has been established in her name at the First National Bank of Antioch.

Strang Funeral Home, Antioch, is in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Carney was a lifelong resident of Antioch and a graduate of St. Peters School and Antioch High School. She graduated from the Evanston Hospital School of Nursing in 1961, receiving her bachelor of science degree from Barat College in 1982 and was currently working as a surgical nurse at St. Therese Hospital.

Mrs. Carney was a member of St. Peters Church; a member of the Association of Operating Room Nurses, Inc. and the Monday Night Golf League, Salem. She married William G. Carney on May 13, 1961.

Survivors, besides her husband and three children, include her parents, Walter F. and Beatrice Forbrich, Antioch; two sisters, Barbara Redman, Waukegan, and Joan Ferrigan, Ingleside; her father-in-law, Edward Carney, Grayslake; six brother and sister-in-laws and several nieces and nephews.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. R. A. Sona,

OPTOMETRIST

STRABISMUS: "CROSSED EYES"

Strabismus, sometimes called "crossed eyes" by the layman, is an eye problem in early life. It describes two eyes that are not perfectly parallel when viewing an object. If left uncorrected, and one eye is used all the time to the exclusion of the other, the "lazy" eye will fail to develop normal vision.

Although a certain amount of random divergence is common in infants, children past the age of one or one and a half should be able to hold both eyes in alignment. Although strabismus is often very obvious, it is frequently impossible to spot with the naked eye. Only a complete eye exam will ascertain its existence.

Sometimes a combination of eyeglasses and eye exercises will take care of the problem or the use of an eye patch if only one eye is involved. In more serious cases, surgery to reposition the eye muscle may be required.

It will not cure itself and it is more than a cosmetic problem. If not corrected by age six, it may be too late for the child to learn to use both eyes together for normal vision.

Accuses eatery of bilking, police of harassment

A Lindenhurst resident sent a letter to the Antioch News, Mayor Ray Toft, Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields, Police Chief Chuck Miller and the owner of an Antioch restaurant, accusing said restaurant of bilking himself and two friends by over charging them.

The letter also stated that the Antioch police officer who was called when the three refused to pay the bill, harassed them, used profanity and "told us to get out of town."

The letter went on to say that his efforts to have the Antioch Police Dept. contact him on the matter proved fruitless although he later returned to the police department asking to talk to the Miller or Lt. Tom Fisher.

Neither was in at the time. Miller was on vacation and Fisher claims that he did not receive the man's message.

After receiving the letter, Miller said that he and Toft had tried to reach the man who was unable to set up an appointment to talk to them about the situation.

Miller added that Fisher then proceeded to do a five-hour investigation, checking with employees of the restaurant who claimed that this was not the first time the people in question had caused a scene in the restaurant.

The waitress that waited on them said that they had added a more expensive item to their order, causing the billing to be a la carte, and she had told them this but they ordered their food that way anyway.

The restaurant employees, the dispatcher on duty at the police department when the men came to talk to Miller or Fisher, and the officer reported that they showed strong evidences of having been drinking.

"They only thing that I find to reprimand my officer for is that he did not arrest them for disorderly conduct," said Miller.

The complainant appeared unannounced at the Antioch Police Dept. on Thursday, Nov. 18, and was given a copy of the four-page report on the matter.

"If he wants to go any further with this, he is welcome to," added Miller.

Village board will pay $1,4000 for extra dirt

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Antioch Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, the village board and Pease Construction Co. have come to an amicable agreement on the payment for the extra sand and topsoil that the construction company used on a public works improvement job earlier this year.

Sterbenz said that the village had agreed to pay one-half of the $2,800 that Pease Construction was asking for.

At the last village board meeting a representative from the construction company reported that the extra sand and top soil had been necessary as a safety precaution when the board contended that the contract for the job called for a set amount of sand and top soil.

The board put the question in front of the village utility committee on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

That committee decided to split the bill down the middle and to pay $1,400 for the extra dirt, raising the total village payment from the $9,315 contracted price to approximately $10,715.

Pease had asked for a payment of $12,122.60 at the board meeting and threatened court action if that amount was not paid.

The Time Machine

When I think about it

First Thanksgiving bird was for the birds

by GLORIA DAVIS

I've always loved the Americana that surrounds thoughts of Thanksgiving dinner. There's something so warm, homey and integral about a picture of the Pilgrims and Indians pausing between massacres and jewelry trading to dine together.

Even those legends that the turkey was a last minute replacement for the roast eagle, that was originally on the menu at that first feast, because of the Plymouth Town Board's ordinance naming the eagle America's national bird, fail to disrupt those Norman Rockwell fantasies that swirl through my mind at the end of every November.

It was in this frame of mind that I remember planning a first Thanksgiving dinner for my new husband and myself.

So, although we were planning to eat dinner on Thanksgiving Day at my mom and dad's, I was determined to bring those comfortable colonial feelings into our new, very small apartment, by cooking my first turkey dinner for just the two of us the day before.

First let me explain that I was the epitome of the legendary bride that was capable of burning a pot of boiling water, despite the high school cooking-class lessons in which I excelled in marmalade making.

Because of our newly married, almost non-existent economic situation, added to the fact that there were only two of us, I bought the smallest fresh turkey that the corner market had. It was so small in fact that the cooking time-table in my cookbook didn't even list a timetable for a bird that size, so I used the one for roast chicken.

Now this would have sufficed nicely if I had read it correctly. But, not realizing that preheating the oven is a good idea, I put the bird in the cold oven and roasted it for the prescribed amount of time at the suggested preheating temperature of 450 degrees.

On top of that, I had that poor fellow cooking on his tummy which had no dressing in it since I couldn't find room in his abdominal cavity because of that plastic bag full of strange things that was already in residence.

Now I won't say that this was a "tough old bird" but we were able to use the little amount of meat that remained on those parched bones to fill the holes in the soles of our shoes for the next year.

No gourmet can claim to have had every taste experience until he has tried to tickle those taste buds with white meat that has been flavored by steaming neckbones, gizzard and residue of melting plastic.

But I did use my head in cooking one of the other things on the menu. I'd often seen my mother battle the last minute hassle of getting the potatoes mashed and the gravy made while trying to keep both of these and the turkey still hot by the time they reached the table.

I decided to eliminate one of these last minute steps by peeling and boiling the potatoes while the turkey was roasting. I thought that I could just leave the potatoes set in the warm water and simply mash them quickly when the time came.

Wrong! Unless one enjoys swallowing a lukewarm semi-gluey lumpy substance that has the consistency of badly made Farina.

No, drowning those "dashed" potatoes with the runny but lumpy first-time gravy I made didn't help a bit.

I won't go into the typical bride's biscuits I made from scratch that my husband still claims are the best golf balls he's ever had, or the watery pumpkin pie whose crust turned out just like the biscuits.

Despite all this, my table did look lovely with our wedding china and silver glimmering in the candlelight. And my husband raved about the meal as he excused himself to run to the corner for some cigarettes.

I think it was on our 25th anniversary that I finally forgave finding him an hour later embarking at the local restaurant that didn't even have a cigarette machine.

The Antioch Library had a record breaking day in the month of November when 129 books were issued in a single afternoon. Total circulation for the month was 156 adult books and 196 children's books.

Mrs. Walter Einstein was saved from serious injury when she lifted a sack of eggs in front of her face as she flew through a car windshield in a local auto accident.

The price of the food for a Thanksgiving dinner for a family of five ranged from $2.29 to $6.75.

The proposed addition to the Antioch Consolidated Grade School was estimated to cost $235,000.

Turkeys were selling for 59 cents per pound.

Cardi's Restaurant was offering a complete Thanksgiving dinner for $2.50, while Prengenger's Resort was offering a turkey dinner for $2.25 or a goose dinner for the same price.

The Antioch Grade School was having trouble with vandalism.

Jim Moulis was voted the "Most Popular Rookie" of the modified stock car race drivers in the Illinois Racing Assn., while Johnny Reimer took the top prize in the super modifieds.

The dance, featuring four bands, will be held from 4 p.m. on, on Sunday, Nov. 28, at St. Peters Social Center.

I hear that Florence Babusek, marketing officer of the State Bank of Antioch, will be one of the lovely models at the Chamber's "Christmas Creations" fashion show.

Dixie Sparks, Chamber secretary, promises great entertainment for the show slated to be held at the Windjammer Restaurant on Rte. 173, on Thursday, Dec. 2.

Sincere condolences to the Carney family on the sudden and tragic death of their top lady, Mary. Her death is a great loss to her family, friends and the community.

I've got to forget that second Pepsi in the afternoons. Do you know that last Friday, when I was doing my banking, I swore I saw a certain bank president riding a bicycle through the bank.

My sympathies to any driver who was stuck at any of the crossroads between Antioch and Soldiers Field on Saturday when those 30-some buses full of Sequoit fans headed for the big game.

Isn't it great that Antioch is fast becoming the biggest Santa Claus town in Illinois. First we got Toyland Rd. and Dan DePosse, who is spearheading Santa's letter answering service and now Claudette Skvarce is working hard on a permanent home for Santa in the old RTA Building by the water-tower.

Most notably, the group captured four individual awards, including first and second place, in the category of local feature stories.

Diana Kuyper's in-depth report on rape prosecution and counseling as well as an interview with a rape victim entitled "There's Room For Improvement In The Justice System" won a first place award. Gloria Davis' first person Target cover feature on racing a stockcar blindfolded won a second place award.

Both writers also won honorable mentions. Kuyper for her feature "Homemade Candy Is A Tempting Treat" which featured a Salem homemade candy shop, and Davis for her feature "Biker Beats Sailors In Race To Makinaw" which appeared as a Target cover feature.

Lakeland Newspapers also won a second place award in the category of makeup and appearance and a second place award for best single advertisement for an ad which appeared last December for Hahn Jewelers in Antioch.

JoAnn Glim, whose column Day To Day Positives And Other Illusions appears weekly in the Modern Family section of many of the Lakeland Newspapers, won a first place award in the category of Best Local Column.

Judges cited the newspaper group with a first place award in classified advertising promotion for its unique Garage Sale Kit which is given away free to those who advertise their garage sales in the Lakeland Newspapers' classified section.

Staff photographer Forrest Muschewski was awarded a third place award in feature photography for his photo feature of a young girl playing ball with her father and the newspaper group also was awarded an honorable mention for its coverage of the closing of the Antioch A&P Food Store, the Jewel Food Store fire and the impact of the two events on the community.

Finally, Lakeland

Newspapers continued to set the pace in the reporting of club and social news with a first place award for the Modern Family section which appears in many of the Lakeland Newspapers.

Awards were presented at the newspaper association's annual fall convention and awards program held at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

Awards were accepted by Gail Robinson, advertising manager; Marcia Lee Struck, classified advertising supervisor; Diana Kuyper, feature editor and Roger Ruthhart, managing editor.

Youthful Snowmobilers Can Get Certification

Youthful snowmobilers may be certified at a training session on Saturday, Dec. 11. The class is being sponsored by the Lake County Farm Bureau Women's Committee and will be conducted in Bldg. 7 located on the Lake County Fairgrounds, Grayslake.

Youthful operators not possessing a drivers license must be certified by the State of Illinois. Anyone operating a snowmobile by themselves without a license or certification is breaking the law.

The class is open to boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 16. Older operators are also welcome to become certified. Registrations are being accepted by calling (312) 223-6506. Hurry, the class is limited to 75 participants.

Participants are asked to arrive at 8:45 a.m. and bring a sack lunch as there are no plans being made to serve lunch. Parents are welcome to stay and listen to the program or plan to pick the children up between 5 and 5:30 p.m. when the testing portion is concluded.

Women's Committee will host a morning and afternoon break.

Scarpelli proves like father, like son

Ray Scarpelli from Antioch and a junior at Northwood Institute in Midland, Mich. was domestic chairman during the planning and organizing of the 19th annual Auto, Truck and Parts Show held on the college's campus.

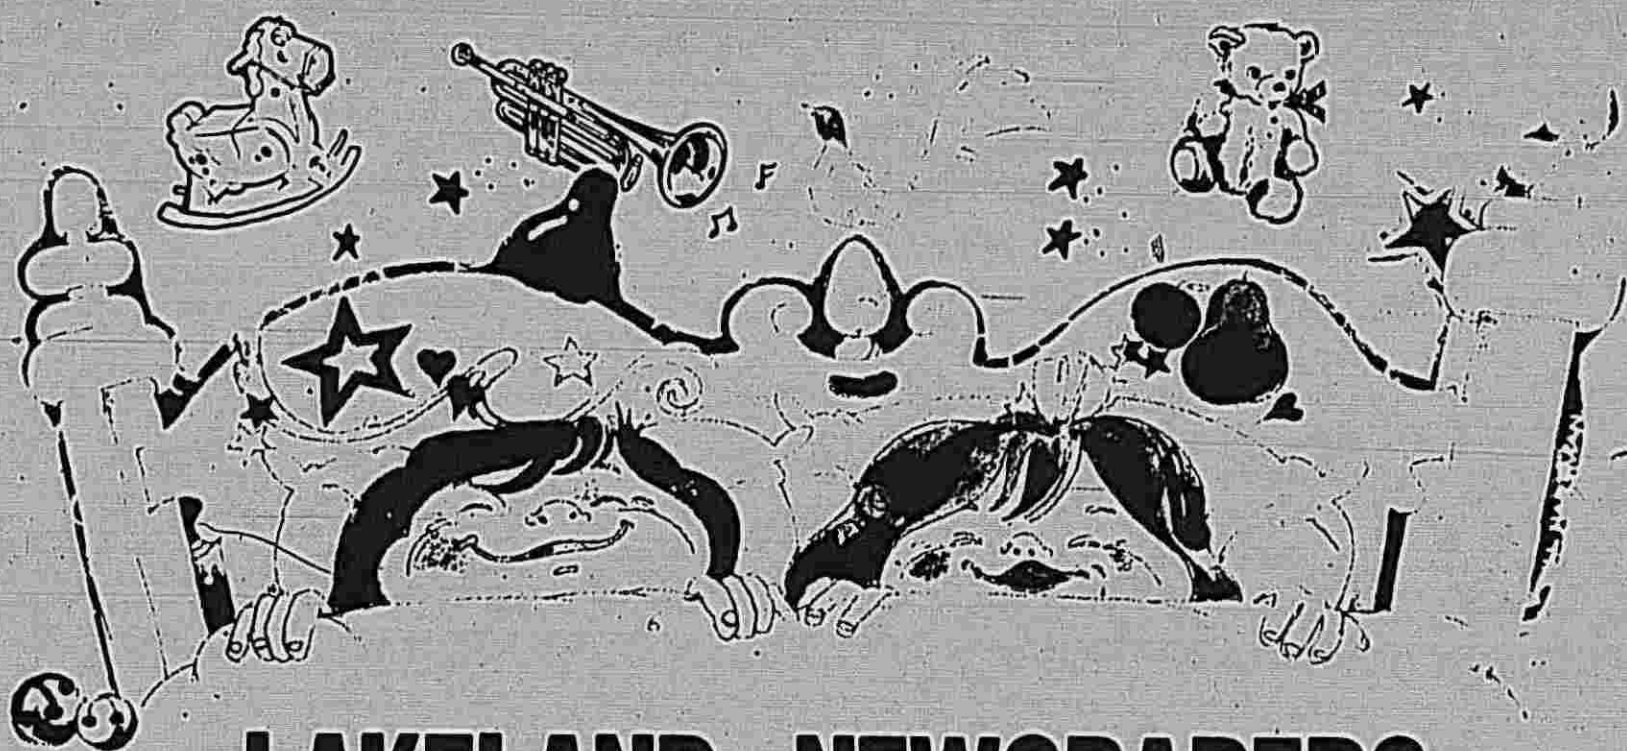

"Wheels in Motion" was the theme of this year's show, which included 1983 domestic and foreign models, light to heavy-duty trucks, vans and specialty cars plus the latest in automotive replacement parts. As in the past, the show drew thousands of spectators viewing over 450 vehicles on display.

The keynote speaker opening this year's auto show was Richard A. Teague, vice president of Automobile Styling for American Motors Corp.

Teague then joined the celebrity guest panel in a presentation on the forecast for the coming year.

Scarpelli is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scarpelli.

Theme Contest ideas begin filling air

That cold nip is in the air and thoughts are starting to turn toward holiday frivolity. That means the deadline for entering Lakeland Newspapers' annual Christmas Theme Contest can't be far behind.

Deadline for this year's contest, which is once again tied to the annual Toys For Tots drive, is Friday, Dec. 10.

Talented young writers and artists have until that date to submit their entries in Lakeland Newspapers' annual Christmas Theme Contest which Lakeland Newspapers will once again hold to help promote the annual Toys For Tots Christmas drive in conjunction with the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves.

Once again this year the contest is planned to help promote and benefit the Toys For Tots drive. Contest participants have from now until Dec. 10 to submit entries in the annual Christmas Theme Contest. A toy donation with entries is requested.

Lakeland Newspapers offices in Antioch, Grayslake, Fox Lake, Wauconda, and North Chicago will serve as drop off points for the Toys For Tots drive.

This year's contest will feature prizes in three different age groups.

Entries in Group I, ages five to eight, should draw a picture depicting "Christmas At My House," using crayons, markers or pen on a regular sized sheet of paper.

Entries in Class II, ages 9 to 13, should write a theme, 500 words or less following the theme of "The Meaning of Christmas Giving."

The third category, Class III, ages 14 to adult, should be a theme, 500 words or less stating "What Christmas Giving Means To Me."

One grand prize will be awarded along with first, second third place prizes in each category.

All entries must have name, address, town and category entered and phone number on the entry. Themes and pictures will not be returned to participants and all entries become the property of Lakeland Newspapers.

Decision of the judges will be final and judging will be based on originality, creativity and neatness of presentation. Entries to the contest must be appropriate to the theme. Winners will be notified by mail.

Winners will be published in Lakeland Newspapers

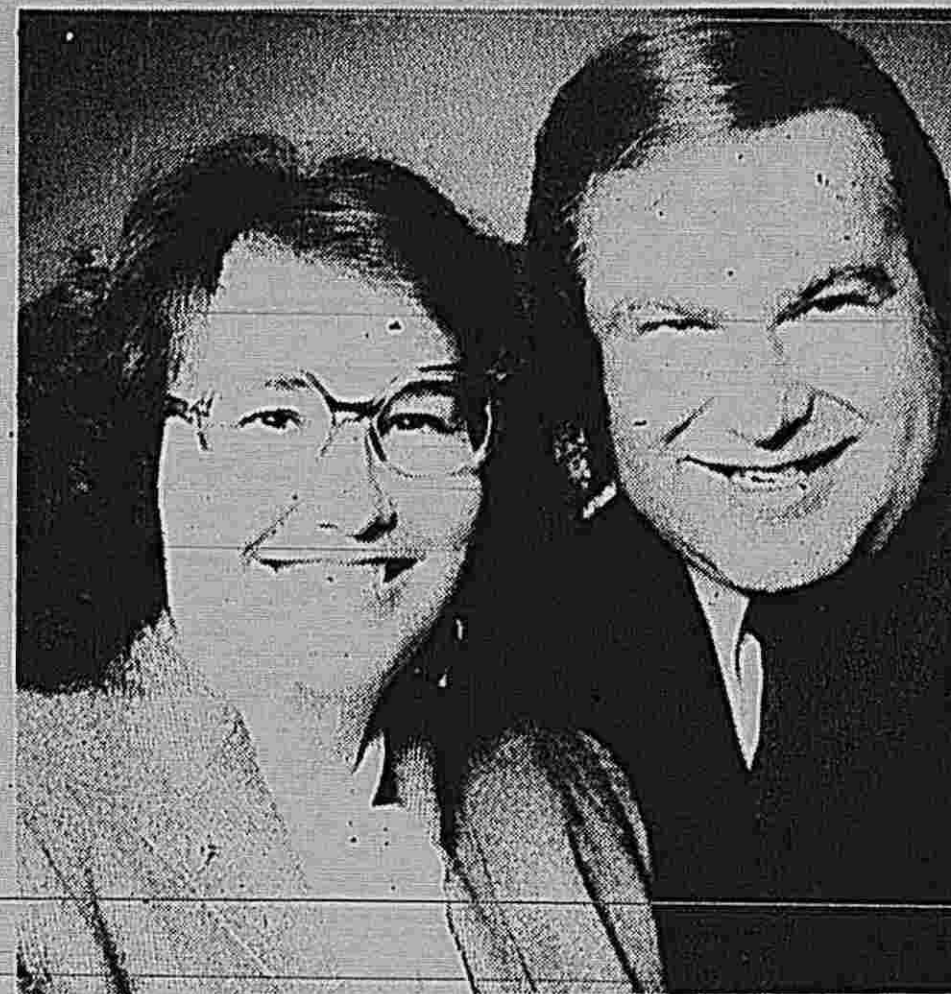

Christmas issues of Dec. 23. All entries must be postmarked no later than Dec. 10 and sent to Lakeland Newspapers, Box 268, Grayslake, Ill. 60030.

However, entrants are urged to drop off entries at one of the five Lakeland Newspapers offices and include a toy donation to Toys For Tots along with their contest entry.

Christian Scientists plan thanks giving

A special service of Thanksgiving will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 25, at the Christian Science Church, located at Rte. 173 and Harden St., Antioch, tracing the scriptural record of God's blessings — even in times of widespread economic challenges.

The Bible lesson-sermon, drawn from both the Old and New Testaments, focuses on God's provision for daily needs of food, clothing, shelter, as well as the deeper yearnings of the heart for fulfillment, health, and the opportunity to help others.

Among specific passages to be included in the sermon are reassurances from Proverbs, "Through wisdom is an house builded; and by understanding it is established," and Philipians, "My God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ, Jesus."

Brief relevant selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be read, including her much-quoted statement: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

The latter part of the hour-long service has been set aside for expressions of gratitude. Hymns, the Lord's Prayer and the President's Proclamation complete the order of service.

The meeting will be conducted by Earl J. Beese, currently serving the congregation as first reader. Mrs. Maggie Pisani will read from the scriptures.

Rev. Messersmith will be on hand to give the Christmas blessing.

The show begins at 7 p.m. with beautiful fashions. Next will be a "fashion auction" with the audience bidding for select items. There will be hilarious entertainment that will keep you in laughter.

Santa will be there presenting door prizes and the surprise finale is really a SURPRISE!! The donation for this extravaganza is, $10 and tickets are available at State Bank, First Bank, Antioch Savings and Loan, and the Chamber office.

Sequoits devastated in final 42 seconds

by MICHAEL H. BABICZ
Sports Editor

Antioch's road to Dyche Stadium fell 42 seconds short.

The Sequoits were defeated 18-16 on a fourth down touchdown pass by Robeson with less than one minute remaining in the game.

The pass closed out Antioch's girdiron season with a 10-2 overall record which included an unbeaten year in its final Northwest Suburban Conference (NWSC) season.

In the game played before a following of several thousand Antioch fans at Soldier Field in Chicago on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 20, it was passing which played a major role in the game's events.

The Raiders of the Chicago Public League Central Division had Jimmie Spraggins intercept a pass to set up his own three-yard touchdown run in the first quarter.

With 7:55 remaining in the first quarter, the Sequoits trailed 6-0 as the pass attempt for the two-point conversion was incomplete.

The Raiders appeared headed for another score later in the quarter as Christopher Bridges intercepted a Sequoit aerial.

On a fourth down and four play, however, Spraggins was knocked out of bounds one yard short.

The defensive play turned the ball over to the Sequoits on downs at their own 14-yard line.

Spraggins picked off another Sequoit pass giving the Raiders good field position inside the Antioch 40-yard line with just under three minutes remaining in the half.

With 48 seconds left in the quarter, the Sequoit defense got the ball back as junior defensive tackle Ed Schwind recovered a fumble on the Antioch 49-yard line.

The Sequoits began to get rolling on offense in a drive which carried over into the early part of the second quarter.

With 11:19 remaining, senior quarterback Tom Adams was shaken up on a pass attempt, with junior John Humphreys coming on to call the signals.

From the Robeson 27-yard line, Humphreys had a nice gain inside the Raider 10-yard line.

As the junior, who normally plays one of the receiving positions, was tackled, the ball slipped out of his hands with Robeson recovering.

Hanging on to the ball was a problem throughout the cloudy, but mild, afternoon as an off and on mist along with an occasional heavy rain kept the field surface wet.

The Antioch defense held, with Robeson being forced to make the first punt of the afternoon by either team.

With Adams back in at quarterback, the Sequoits were aided by a defensive pass interference penalty along with a delay of game for not having a chinstrap snapped against the Raiders.

A holding penalty against the Sequoits took Antioch back to the Robeson 39-yard line after senior fullback George Bessette had gained good yardage which was nullified.

Robeson intercepted a Sequoit pass on the next play, temporarily delaying the game tieing score.

Antioch senior defensive back Craig Sheedlo intercepted a Raider pass and returned it 52 yards to the Robeson four-yard line.

After an encroachment penalty against Robeson moved the ball to the two-yard line, the Sequoits struggled against a tough Robeson defensive line.

Bessette gained one yard on a dive attempt over the middle, with Adams being stopped for no gain on a quarterback keeper.

On a fourth down and one play after an incomplete pass, junior runningback John Mahar found a hole over the left guard to score.

The touchdown tied the score at 6-6 with just over five minutes remaining in the half, however, the extra-point kick was wide.

Beginning on its own 31-yard line, Robeson moved quickly down the field.

A 34-yard pass for the Raiders which was completed when both Antioch defenders covering on the play went for the interception put Robeson on the Sequoit 11-yard line.

Two plays later, Robeson scored on a quarterback keeper around its right side of its offensive line.

The run-for-the-two-point conversion failed leaving Antioch trailing 12-6 with 1:27 remaining in the half.

A 50-yard pass from Adams to senior end Derek Olsen put the Sequoits on the Robeson 24-yard line on the first play following the kickoff.

After three incomplete passes, Olsen came on to kick a 43-yard field goal which cleared the crossbar by a couple of feet.

The three-pointer brought the Sequoits to within a field goal of tying the score at 12-9 with 34 seconds remaining in the half.

In the third quarter, Robeson attempted to punt but had a bad snap result in a short punt which the Sequoits took over possession of on the Raider 37-yard line.

The Sequoit drive stalled with Olsen coming on to attempt a 32-yard field goal.

The kick was wide to the left, giving the ball over to Robeson at the Antioch 20-yard line with 2:17 remaining in the quarter.

On the second play for the Raiders, Antioch junior defensive back Dan Berkiel intercepted a pass on the Sequoit 46-yard line.

On the first play for Antioch, Adams hit Olsen in stride down the middle of the field for a 54-yard touchdown.

Olsen's extra-point kick was good giving Antioch a 16-12 lead with 1:12 remaining in the third quarter.

Berkiel picked off another Raider pass late in the third quarter and returned it 16 yards to the Robeson 39-yard line.

Eventually, the Sequoits punted on a third down quick-kick after two big losses and a delay of game penalty got them out of what had been somewhat good field position.

The Antioch defense came to life once again with Robeson starting out at its own 28-yard line after Adams punt.

With senior defensive tackle John Andre providing the strong rush on the Robeson quarterback, it enabled junior defensive back Craig Prather to intercept a poorly thrown pass.

The turnover put the Sequoits on the Robeson 42-yard line with just under 10 minutes remaining in the game.

A holding penalty against the Sequoits which moved them back to their own 41-yard line nullified a good gain by John Mahar to the Robeson 25-yard line.

Adams eventually punted, with the kick ending up inside the Robeson five-yard line where it was fielded and brought out to the Raider 14-yard line with 6:17 remaining in the game.

Things began going the Raiders way as a fumbled exchange was recovered by the Robeson quarterback for a three-yard gain.

A questionable ruling of a pass as being incomplete, which was recovered by the Sequoits, allowed Robeson to retain possession although the Raiders were forced to punt from their own 26-yard line.

With 3:52 remaining in the game, Antioch had the ball on their own 41-yard line.

After Bessette had been dropped for a two-yard loss, the Sequoits attempted a pass with Robeson intercepting the deflected ball and returning it to the Antioch 44-yard line.

With just over three minutes remaining in the game, Antioch junior linebacker Andy Lehn intercepted a Robeson pass.

The official ruled Lehn was out-of-bounds, however, which allowed the Raiders another chance.

Three plays later, a 22-yard pass moved the Raiders to the Antioch 12-yard line with 1:39 remaining in the game.

With 49 seconds left, senior linebacker Bill Carney made the tackle which resulted in a two-yard loss on a pass, setting up fourth down and 11 yards to go from the Sequoit 13-yard line.

The game came down to the fourth down play, with the Robeson quarterback rolling to his right with steady pursuit coming from the Sequoit defensive line.

Robeson's Vincent Tolbert snuck across behind the Antioch defensive secondary, which had begun to come up on the quarterback, and caught the lob into the right side of the end zone for the touchdown.

A fumble on the two-point conversion run attempt was recovered by Antioch junior defensive end Frank Mahar in the end zone.

Robeson's kicker shanked the kickoff with Antioch getting semi-good field position at its own 42-yard line.

After three incomplete passes, Adams connected with Olsen for 18 yards to the Robeson 40-yard line.

Adams was sacked on his final attempt to get the Sequoits into the end zone leaving the 18-16 final score.

Toys For Tots

Get your children involved in giving

Local Marines, operating out of the Waukegan Marine Corps Reserve Center, Waukegan, have kicked off the 35th annual Toys For Tots drive with some new twists this holiday season.

Once again this year, Lakeland Newspapers will join in co-sponsoring the Toys For Tots drive. Collection points have been established in Lakeland Newspapers offices in Grayslake, Antioch, Wauconda, Fox Lake and North Chicago.

This year the Toys For Tots collection drive will run from Nov. 19 to Dec. 17. Honorary national chairman is Mrs. Nancy Reagan. National spokesperson is Henry (The Fonz) Winkler who will be appearing in tv commercials to help collect toys.

Within the Chicagoland area, John T. Case of WBBM radio is the Chicagoland honorary chairman and Larry Leafblad of WLXC radio, Waukegan, is the Lake and McHenry counties honorary chairman.

Joining the Toys For Tots campaign this year is Dominick's Finer Foods which will have drop off locations at all of its Chicagoland stores. Dominick's currently operates 74 food outlets, all located within the Chicagoland metropolitan area.

In addition to the Dominick's drop offs, Marines announced that Pepsi Cola General Bottlers will provide a pickup service for Toys For Tots from the Dominick's dropoffs. Toys will be delivered from there to one of five distribution stations.

Repair of larger toy items such as wagons, tricycles, bicycles, toy trucks or cars will be provided by the Waukegan Adult Seniors

Program and repair of dolls and stuffed animals will be provided by the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program.

Dignitaries involved in this year's program were introduced by Capt. David Winn, inspector-instructor of the Waukegan Marine Corps Reserve Center as a press conference held at the reserve center.

"Everybody likes kids. That's one of the easiest things to do," said local chairman, Larry Leafblad. "But it takes a little extra effort to get a toy and make sure it gets a safe delivery to one of the many dropoff stations," he said.

Leafblad noted that "lots of kids get lots of toys. What we do with our kids is have them give one of the toys they would have gotten to Toys For Tots. They go shopping and help pick out the toys and it gives them a real sense of giving," said Leafblad. "That's important too."

This year the Marine Corps hopes to collect 175,000 toys throughout the Chicagoland area and 35,000 in Lake and McHenry counties.

Although this year they will not benefit from the Chicago Bears game in which patrons were encouraged to donate to the Toys For Tots program, the addition of Dominick's and the donation of 13,000 toys by Kidco toy company have helped pick up some of the slack.

Winn stressed that any new, used or repairable toy is welcome and they can be dropped off at any of the many dropoff points or can be dropped off at the Reserve Center in Waukegan. If you call the reserve center at (312) 623-7447 or (312) 244-5517 they will arrange pickup of toys.

Also participating in the press conference was Santa Claus who plays a big part in the distribution of all toys at Christmas time. Santa explained that toys collected are distributed to agencies who have applied for the toys and they must come and pick them up and distribute them.

Once again this year, the Waukegan Jaycees are acting as a depository for cash donations to the program since the Marine program cannot accept cash donations. Cash will be used to pay for gas for collections or to buy special toys which are not donated. "Santa and his elves make the toys, but we have to get them here," said former Marine and present Jaycee liaison officer Dan Dane, who accepted a cash donation from Dick Daskal of Carpet World at the press conference.

Jon Paul, director of operations at Kidco Toys in Bensenville, also displayed some of the more than 13,000 children's toys his company has donated to the Toys For Tots program.

"The 1982 goal can be reached if everyone capable of contributing lends a helping hand," said Winn. "Clubs, organizations, churches, schools and places of business are encouraged to participate. There are many businesses and organizations throughout our two counties who have helped with Toys For Tots over the past year and we hope their assistance continues," he added.

"A toy at Christmas, which appears when all hopes are lost, is a joyous occasion for a needy child and family. With the economic difficulties and unemployment in our communities, the Toys For Tots program offers a ray of happiness and good will during the Christmas season.

"Please share in the spirit of giving to those less fortunate within our counties," said Winn. "Look for collection barrels with the Toys For Tots poster, located throughout your community," he added.

JOINING FORCES—Working together, Santa Claus and U.S. Marine Corps are a force to be reckoned with. Together they hope to be able to provide more than 35,000 toys to needy children in Lake and McHenry counties this year. Santa and Capt. David Winn of Marine Corps Reserve Center, Waukegan, joined to kick off this year's drive. Lakeland Newspapers will once again be a co-sponsor with dropoff locations at Antioch News office and four other convenient newspaper offices. — Photo By Roger Ruthhart.

Ask Dr. Sven
by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

DENTAL X-RAYS

Q: Are dental x-rays safe?

A: Properly administered x-rays are indeed safe. And important, for they can identify potential problems before you can feel them or the dentist can see them. Also, for investigating specific conditions or planning certain kinds of treatment, x-rays are vital.

New high-speed films designed specifically for dental x-ray photography reduce your exposure. By working twice as fast, this film requires only half the usual amount of x-rays, yet the resulting image is just as clear as that from the older, slower film.

If you move or change dentists, make sure your new dentist receives copies of your x-rays. That way you will prevent unnecessary exposure while maintaining good dental care.
